About the Conference -WAVES 2020 :

The WAVES conference will consist of a rich variety of sessions, including an Inaugural session, Panel discussions, Plenaries, Keynotes, and Valedictory session. We have strong participation from global scholars, particularly from the USA, and India. University students and Young students engaged in Hindu and Vedic education are likely to attend the conference with full zeal.

Papers Submission Date further extended :

This year, we are holding virtual conference and will try to release E-book during the Inaugural session. Only those who have submitted full papers by deadline will be allowed to present papers. All paper presentations are expected to be via a pre-recording. We will publish guidelines on How to make this Recording, and even provide help to those that Request. A deadline will be established for these recordings. Paper presenter has to be present online while that paper presentation is played. This is planned for the smooth proceedings of the conference.

For full paper (3000-5000 words) can be submitted up to – November 30, 2020

Accepted papers will be notified through e-mail by December 15, 2020

For other details please see Second announcement.

Submit papers through email to: wavesconference2020@gmail.com

Certificate of Presentation / Participation:

Presenters will get Certificate of Presentation. Attendees will get Certificate of Participation only if they attend all sessions of the conference and fill up feedback form generated during the conference.
